Actor standing on a box. He is looking very nervous. He looks like he wants to jump off the box but doesn't have the confidence to do so. Another actor walks past.

Actor on ground: Are you alright?
Actor on box: Yes, don't mind me.
Actor on ground: You don't look alright. Do you need some help getting down?
Actor on box: What do you mean getting down? I can't.
Actor on ground: You can't? Are you scared of heights or something?
Actor on box: Not exactly. It's not the height that's the problem.
Actor on ground: Oh. Can't you just jump off then?
Actor on box: Are you crazy?
Actor on ground: Am I crazy? How am I crazy?
Actor on box: How can I guarantee that I'll reach the ground? What if I jump and then just float in the air? Forever?
Actor on ground: You won't! Gravity will pull you towards the ground.
Actor on box: You seem to have a lot of faith in this 'gravity'. I'm afraid I don't share your optimism.
Actor on ground: If you don't take my word for it – I'll show you how it's done. Watch... (He pulls up a box of his own, climbs on top and then jumps off)
See?
Actor on box: Well it's different for you.
Actor on ground: How exactly?
Actor on box: Cos you're confident in this 'gravity'. If I don't have the confidence then I don't think I can do it!
Pause
Actor on ground: Well I can't stay around forever. I don't really know what else I can do to help you out. Good luck! (he shakes his head in disbelief, and walks away)

(The actor on the box remains there, looking nervously around him)
